

iPad User Agreement – at home

We are pleased to offer iPad access at home for Year 3 pupils at Colton Primary School. Once this document is signed, all children in Year 3 will be able to take their iPad home daily, to continue using them for educational purposes.

Vision and Values

Through outstanding teaching and learning, pupils will leave Colton Primary School equipped with the skills and knowledge to strive to be technologically capable young adults, including keeping safe online and learning computing skills which will equip them to participate at the highest level in a global, technological world.

Equipment

After signing the user agreement, pupils will be able to bring home with them:

- 1) An iPad
 - 2) A case
- *A lightning charging cable is available on request

Travelling

We strongly recommend that iPads are placed in a suitable bag to travel to and from school. If an iPad is left at home at the start of a school day, parents will be contacted and asked to return it to school as soon as possible. iPads need to come into school fully charged each day, so that we can use them effectively for our learning.

Home WiFi

iPads are a great learning tool with or without internet access. Connecting the iPad to your home Wi-Fi will allow pupils to access the internet and allow some additional features. Safe use of iPads at home requires parental supervision and guidance. Children should not use iPads at home in a room, without an adult. To keep the children safe and comfortable, care should be taken to follow guidelines about screen time and posture.

In school filtering, prevents children accessing inappropriate content. At home, iPads are filtered through your Wi-Fi. We ask that parents ensure that home filtering is age appropriate and prevents children from bringing inappropriate images and content into school.

Communicating

Pupils can use their iPads to communicate with teachers and pupils in their class using apps approved by the school. All of these messages can and will be monitored. Pupils must not try to communicate with anyone else using direct messages or any platform where messages can be password protected. Pupils may not use the iPad for non-academic purposes during school hours or at home without parental permission. If an iPad is found unattended in school, or in the community (such as left at Sainsburys) it should be given to a member of school staff.

Safety Checks

The iPads could be subject to unannounced random content checks by members of staff. iPads are digitally managed and restricted to protect pupils (in and out of school) and to ensure that they are utilised for educational purposes. There are various restrictions in place on the iPad. If parents notice that these restrictions are no longer in place, pupils must stop using devices and this should be reported to the school as soon as possible.

Under no circumstances should anyone deliberately try to circumvent the restrictions. iPads should never be exposed to proxy, VPN or jail break software. It is the responsibility of parents to ensure that these rules are not broken and report any issues immediately.

Media

When at home, parents need to ensure that pupils follow copyright law. Use of any educational or recreational services that use media content such as BBC iPlayer, music streaming sites or image sharing sites must only be used with the supervision and permission of an adult.

Servicing and Updates

iPads will be returned daily when your child comes into school and minor updates or checks can then be carried out. There may be times within the year where iPads must stay on the school premises for large updates; where possible, we will give advance notice for this.

Responsibilities

By signing this agreement, parents are agreeing that iPads will:

- Be brought to school with a fully charged battery every day.
- Stay with the parent, guardian or pupil and not be loaned to others.
- Be kept securely and safely away from potential damage (liquids, food, extreme temperatures, younger siblings, pets etc.).
- Always remain in the school's purchased case.

- Be secured in a suitable bag when not in use.
- Transported between home and school in an appropriate carrier.

By signing this agreement parents are agreeing that they will not:

- Use the camera to take inappropriate photographs or videos, nor will it be used to embarrass anyone in any way. Any use of the iPad in toilets or changing rooms, regardless of intent, will be treated as a serious safeguarding violation. Use of the camera and microphone are strictly prohibited in school unless permission is granted by a teacher.
- Access other pupils' iPads or Accounts.
- Use maliciousness or vandalism - any attempt to destroy hardware, software or data.
- Use the iPad on their journeys to and from school.

E-Safety

Colton Primary School provides a high level of internet content filtering on our wireless network whilst in school. At home, it is the responsibility of the parents to ensure that appropriate filters are in place. Information is available on the school website to help with this. In addition to the restrictions in place on the device, teachers ensure that pupils receive direct teaching on how to use internet enabled devices responsibly and flag up concerns as soon as they arise. If concerns are raised relating to safeguarding through use of the iPad, the school Safeguarding policy will be implemented. This policy is available on the school website.

Posture Awareness Using iPads

The main concern with prolonged use of iPad is the strain on the neck and shoulders from having the head tilted forward for long periods. Children may not be experiencing pain, but they can still be damaging their bodies in the long term from poor postures. Bending forward can put strain on the lower back and holding a tablet for long periods puts strain on the shoulders and arms.

Guidance: to prevent poor neck posture

The iPad is small and portable so changing position regularly can be beneficial.

Avoid forward head tilting by using an appropriate case which can angle up the iPad. There are adjustable stands around like 'Grimar' from IKEA. High angle for viewing and lower angle when interacting/typing. If on the sofa raise the iPad on cushions so it is angled up and towards you.

Limit the time that the child is on the iPad and take regular breaks, lifting the head and getting up and moving around. A copy of this policy is on the school's website.

I have read Colton Primary School's 'iPad User Agreement' and understand that failure to abide by all of the applicable rules will result in restrictive or disciplinary measures being put in place.
